

Editorial

Welcome to the 2021 edition, Volume 5, of the Journal of Anti-corruption Law. This edition contains six academic articles.

- Bruno Meini engages the topical issue of the proliferation of corrupt activities in public health systems during the global Covid 19 pandemic.
- In his article, Mpumelelo Phakathi looks at the challenges and potential lessons from the de-densification project in Alexandria during the Covid-19 crisis.
- Phiri Chidongo evaluates the internal strategies and mechanisms for combating corruption during the Covid-19 pandemic in Zambia.
- Paul Mukiibi examines the issue of corruption during the Covid-19 crisis response in Uganda and the implications for the right to health.
- Cherith Sanger examines the symbiosis between the criminalisation of sex work and corrupt policing in sex work in South Africa.

Keynote address

- In addition, this edition includes the keynote address by Lady Justice Jane Frances Abodo during the third annual Economic and Cyber Crimes Conference of the Department of Criminal Justice and Procedure and the Journal of Anti-corruption Law