

Multilingual Margins

A journal of multilingualism from the periphery

Volume 2

Issue 2

December 2015

Theme: Multilingual Dislocations

EDITORS

CHRISTOPHER STROUD
University of the Western Cape
South Africa

QUENTIN WILLIAMS
University of the Western Cape
South Africa

GUEST EDITOR

AMIENA PECK
University of the Western Cape
South Africa

ARTICLES

Introduction

AMIENA PECK, QUENTIN WILLIAMS AND CHRISTOPHER
STROUD 3

Linguistic Messianism

CHRISTOPHER STROUD AND MANUEL GUISEMO 7

Linguistic Citizenship as Utopia

CHRISTOPHER STROUD 22

Drag Kings in Cape Town: The performance of gendered subjectivities online

MOONIQ SHAIKJEE 40

The Conceptual Evolution in Linguistics: Implications for the study of Kaaps

CHARLYN DYERS 57

POSTGRADUATE RESEARCH SYNOPSIS

Exploring Habitus and Writer-Identities: An Ethnographic Study of Writer-Identity Construction in the FET Phase at two schools in the Western Cape

MICHELLE VAN HEERDEN 67

The Communicative Features of Online Hate in Temporary Social Networks on Twitter and YouTube KIRBY AMERICA	74
Schooling Superdiversity: Linguistic Features as Linguistic Resources in Two Manenberg Classrooms in the Western Cape MADELYNNE MADELL	78
Baba Jukwa's Facebook Page: A Possible Counter-Hegemonic Space for Political Transformation in Zimbabwe STANLEY MUTWETA	88
A Multisemiotic Analysis of 'Skinscapes' of Female Students at Three Western Cape Universities SHANLEIGH ROUX	97
REFLECTION
Amava am kumhlangano eCalders Hotel: Reflection of the Workshop BONGEKA MHLAULI	100
POEM
Dislocating Women: 'I Am An Afrikaner Woman' SINDIWE MAGONA	105
BOOK REVIEW
Global Portuguese: Linguistic Ideologies in Late Modernity MANUEL GUISSIMO	108
APPENDIX
ANNOUNCEMENTS
	114